WELCOME FROM THE CHAIR

Welcome to the February edition of the Chronicle.

Scheduled Work on Deri woods is due to start according to the Ancient Woodland Restoration plan prepared by Coed Cadw and the Woodland trust. This will see some thinning of non-native conifers and beech to allow daylight to the ground and encourage the succession of Oak and other native saplings. There will also be some felling of Ash trees with Ash die back disease.

The temporary closure of the leisure centre was reviewed and lifted. As a community we need to ensure we use the facilities on our doorstep to keep them viable. We're keen for ideas on how we can utilize the facilities we have. Those that can please support events within the community. Please come and mingle with your neighbours. There are a couple of warm hubs running during the winter, one run by the Church, the Library and the other due to start in the institute.

Welcome to Cllr Stephen Purser

Following a seat becoming vacant on the Town Council an election was advertised with no interest. There was then a co-option notice posted and from that a new councillor has been appointed. Please let us introduce Cllr Stephen Purser.

Stephen worked in local government for 37 years, his last role being as Assistant Ombudsman.

On retirement he joined Stoney Stanton Parish Council and was Chair for 2 years.

On moving to Llanfair he joined the Carnival Committee, chaired the Library Steering Group and then became Chair of the Library Committee. He is a Trustee of the Llanfair Caereinion Public Hall and Institute. He is also involved with the work of the Historical Society. He is Company Secretary and Elections Officer for the Radio Society of Great Britain, a 20,000 member organisation representing radio amateurs in the UK.

He says experience as a Parish Councillor in Stoney Stanton is probably the most relevant to this application. During his time as Chair he negotiated a successful major land transfer, dealt with the adoption of a large area of open space, helped establish a Youth Club, helped the Clerk organise events such as the Christmas Lights switch on and Brass on the Grass and negotiated with the County Council and the bus company a new and improved bus service (which the bus company had wanted to close). We appointed a new Clerk and as her line manager I was responsible both for the formalities of her appointment and her annual appraisal. I led the Council in producing its first operational plan and risk register.

THE FRIENDS OF LLANFAIR CLOCK BONGS TO RETURN

It was just about a year ago that the Friends of Llanfair Clock was set up seeking to restore the church clock which had decided to stop working with the bells falling silent. During the past 12 months the committee has set about raising funds, gaining quotes and putting place the agreements needed to make it all happen.

We are pleased to announce that the money has been raised, the agreements are in place and instructions to the contractors should be issued before Christmas. This will enable works to start early Spring with completion early autumn. The Bongs will return.

The money raised was made of:

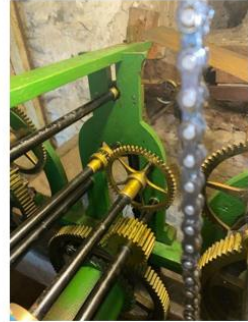

Church	£4,000
Council	£1,500
Grant aid	£2,500
Donations	£5,233
Total raised	£13,233

The cost of the restoration is approx. £10,000 plus VAT. The Church will be able to reclaim the VAT. Any remaining money will be held by the Caereinion Area Mission ringfenced for future maintenance of the clock so that is it protected into the future.

A thanks to the committee who has made this all happen working with both the Council and the Church.

More news will be issued about the project as it progresses.

Below are some pictures of the clock mechanism which is to be restored.

CHURCH WALL AND LYCHGATE

The Town Council has completed works to the churchyard wall along Broad Street and High Street as well as new foundations to stabilise the lychgate.

The cross will be put back on the top of the lychgate fairly soon.

These works will ensure that the wall and lychgate will be there for us all to enjoy into the future.

REPORT FROM GARETH JONES COUNTY COUNCILLOR (LLANFAIR CAEREINION AND LLANERFYL)

SINGLE TRANSFERABLE VOTE (STV)

Council has voted to go out to consultation on moving to STV.

What is STV

- STV is a multi-winner electoral system in which each voter casts a single vote in the form of a ranked based ballot.
- A move from 52 single member wards and 8 multi member wards ..to all multi member wards.
- There would remain 68 Councillors within Powys
- Voters can rank as many or as few candidates as they wish or can vote for only one candidate.

Several of you have contacted me with opinions on this and I would welcome further views.

POTHLES and DRAINS

I recently drove a Powys officer around Llanfair and Llanerfyl highlighting a growing list of essential work needed within the ward, the Health Centre Car Park, Bitfil, High Street, St Mary's footpath, Glyndwr Lane , Pontbren Bridge , Tallerdig lane, and the Railway bridge are just a few. I will continue to chase these and other works that require urgent attention.

APPOINTMENT OF DIRECTORS

A meeting of the full council was held on the 24th and 25th January to appoint 5 permanent directors. The successful candidates are.

- Director of Economic Development and Growth Diane Reynolds
- Director of Corporate Services Jane Thomas
- Chief Officer – Place Matt Perry
- Director of Social Care and Well Being Nina Davies
- Director of Education Richard Jones

YSGOL BRO CAEREINIION

The consultation closed in December; Officers are currently working on the consultation responses, and we wait for the results. Officers will be submitting a report to cabinet in April 2024.

Thank you to everyone who completed the consultation.

ADULT SOCIAL SERVICES – THE PRESSURES

The service receives approximately 1300 calls per month into the information service called Assist and of which 60% of these proceed to assessment.

We provide 7500 hours of domiciliary care per week and a care package lasts for approximately 2 months. November 2023, we provided 123 care packages in comparison to 105 in November 2022. We also delivered 800 more care hours in November 2023 in comparison to November 2022.

65 + years of age make up 25% of our population whereas they Welsh average is 21%.

Hospital discharge delays ranged from 41 – 67 throughout 2023.

Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any concerns that you wish to raise on 01938810296/07713988017 or cllr.gareth.jones@powys.gov.uk

From Russell George – A view on the 20mph limit debate

The Welsh Government's regulations that change most 30mph speed restrictions to 20mph, came into force in September. There has been huge public reaction, including a petition on the Senedd website, that has led to the largest ever petition to the Senedd with nearly half a million signatures opposing the move. I voted against the regulations in July last year to prevent them coming into force.

While in some areas a reduced speed limit is appropriate, such as outside schools, and in many cases I have requested a change to 20mph myself, the blanket 20mph introduction is going to have a serious negative impact. I firmly believe that the Welsh Government simply needed to make the process much easier for reducing speed limits in areas where there was concern, and where there was community support, rather than bringing forward a blanket policy.

The Welsh Government claim that this is not a blanket approach, as councils can make exceptions to put to a limit back to 30mph, but in my view, the guidance to councils to bring forward an exemption is so rigid, they simply do not have the discretion needed. 97% of 30mph restrictions have been changed to 20mph across Wales. I therefore hold the view this is a blanket approach policy.

The change has cost an initial £32.5 million with a potential impact of up to £9 billion to the economy over a period of years, according to the Welsh Governments own figures.

I voted against this traffic order, as I considered the blanket approach to be wrong, The funding provided to bring this order forward, should be spent on other priority areas, such as on our Health service, a point I made to the Minister in the Senedd on the day of the vote last year.

Before the policy was agreed, there was a trial of the new limit in various parts of Wales. Data from the trial areas shows that enforcement is not consistently carried out, with one area experiencing no enforcement at all.

Before the policy came into force, an ITV poll showcased that 66% of people were against the change and even the Welsh Government's consultation in March 2022 found that 53% of respondents opposed the change.

My own online survey attracted a huge amount of interest from people who are overwhelmingly against the reductions. I ran the survey ahead of the introduction and I have detailed the response I had received up to the day of the order coming into force. 87% of people said that they were concerned about the impact the change would have to their lives. 83% of respondents felt that businesses and visitors, a vital part of Mid Wales's economy, would be affected. 88% of respondents felt that each location for reductions should be assessed to decedent the most appropriate restriction.

Common concerns raised in the survey included about the significant funds allocated by Welsh Government towards the project, policing of existing limits and the impact on public transport like buses. One resident reflected that increased enforcement costs had not been properly considered and many others that frustrated drivers could end up being less aware of road conditions as they tried to keep to lower limits.

Apart from the vote on the traffic order last July, the Welsh Conservatives brought forward a further vote to scrap the default limit change. As it currently stands, and despite the widespread opposition, the Welsh Government are currently standing by this policy. With a leadership election underway for the job of First Minister, both candidates have seemed to distance themselves away from this policy, despite supporting it previously. Whilst candidates have talked about a review of the policy, neither has yet given any firm commitments for change.

New Life Church

There's always a buzz on Wednesday afternoons after school in the Main Hall of the Institute as children and young people gather for either JAM (High School Age Children) or Junior JAM.

Leaders and volunteers from New Life Church run these clubs each week and the different groups of youngsters come along on alternate weeks, and sessions run after school until 5pm.

The club offers a safe space for the youngsters to enjoy each other's company, chill, play games and also engage in a 10 - 15-minute slot exploring an aspect of Christian faith in a relevant way.

They also eat unbelievable amounts of toast!!

Places are limited so please contact us beforehand if your child is interested in coming along.

For more details about JAM and Junior JAM or any of the other activities of New Life Church please see our Facebook page where you can direct message us.
