Dog control in Deri Woods and The Goat Field

This does not appear to be a widespread issue and sometimes it is caused by dogs being a little boisterous. New signage will be installed reminding people to keep their dogs under close control.

Deri Woods and The Goat Field Management Plan

Deri Woods and Goat Field is the only Council-owned site listed as a habitat of principal importance for Wales (under Section 7 of the Environment (Wales) Act 2016). It is home to seven species of tree of principal importance to Wales

The Council has been working with the Deri Woods Volunteers to put together a management plan for Deri Woods to ensure it is well kept for future generations.

This will mean some felling of trees to ensure others are allowed to grow. The full plan can be found on the Council's website at www.llanfairtowncouncil.co.uk

There will be a few consultation days planned for the autumn where residents can take a tour of Deri Woods and see what is proposed. The dates will be published in due course.

The Friends of Deri Woods have gained a grant to enable re-instatement of a meadow to be created around the stones. This will allow for indigenous species to grow and help with biodiversity.
